Have you got the free Antenno App yet?

So what's this Antenno thing?

Antenno is a free mobile app you can download on your smart phone. It's available for Android phones and iPhones.

We can send important alerts and news direct to your Antenno app.

You can send us reports if there's something we need to look into.

Vandalism? Report it on your Antenno App! Pot holes on a council road? Antenno it! Doggie getting into trouble? Let us know on Antenno!

Zero Waste - what's your vision for the future?

What should our reuse, recycling and rubbish future look like in Taranaki?

That's the question Stratford, South Taranaki, and New Plymouth district councils are asking you, as we prepare new Waste Management and Minimisation Plans (WMMP) for the Taranaki region.

A WMMP says how we will promote and achieve great waste management and minimisation within our community.

All councils need to develop a WMMP every six years. The three Taranaki district councils are working together to develop our 2023-2029 plans. We're doing this in four stages. Right now, we're on stage two, "Where do we want to be?" During this stage, we shape our vision and goals for the next six years. That's where we need your help.

Have your say!

We developed a set of proposed visions and goals and we want your feedback. A vision should say where we want to be. Goals are what we want to achieve in the next six years. Both will drive our actions going forward. If you have a vision or goal about managing and minimising waste that's different from ours, please share it!

Zero Waste

Where do we want to be?

Fill in our short, five-minute survey at ZeroWasteTaranaki.org.nz/NextSixYears

You can also make a submission at Stratford Library and Visitor Information Centre, Wai O Rua – Stratford Aquatic Centre, and Council's Service Centre.

Strange sightings in Stratford...

Are you seeing dragons in the street, or goddesses in the garden? You don't need an optometrist (probably). The Scarecrow Trail, Stratford district's favourite scavenger hunt, opens on Friday 28 October!

We're counting down to the start of the hunt!
